

Saracens vs. Harlequins

It was a beautiful day; perfect conditions for a group of 26 to travel down and spectate what could only be classified as an epic match of rugby. Rugby aside, there was a whole host of attractions in Wembley designed to entertain the crowd. Before the game even began there was a man attempting to walk a tightrope suspended 50 metres across the pitch, and although he was harnessed on it could not help but captivate you with tension. A "Mexican wave" even made it through the crowds around stadium 3 times ! Saracens took an early lead and eventually triumphed with an impressive score of 37 – 18. It was a very enjoyable day, with surprisingly pleasant weather for being in the middle of April.
